What makes us different

Single point of contact

At Grant Thornton, where the service requires coordination of our member firms, you will have a dedicated project manager from our team who will be your single point of contact globally. The availability of a single point of contact allows for better use of your internal financial resources, as they will not have to coordinate with multiple teams worldwide. Our senior team offers the right answers at the right time and a consistent approach to processes and quality.

Cutting edge bespoke technology

Our team utilises innovative technology to enable our centralised approach. At Grant Thornton, we collaborate on large multi-jurisdictional projects using a market leading statutory reporting tool. This tool enables greater standardisation and efficiencies in financial statement preparation and has multi-lingual capabilities. Our continuous improvement mindset ensures that we constantly adapt and deliver best in class tailored solutions for your needs.

Project management tool for tracking status of project

At Grant Thornton, we deploy a methodology tailored to your specific needs that enhances collaboration and visibility. Our team utilises Grant Thornton Collaborate, powered by Thomson Reuters which allows for global real time visibility on the current status of projects. The tool provides standardised workflows which set out the key deliverable dates for each stakeholder in the process and flags upcoming and missed deadlines. It also facilitates file storage which helps to eliminate email traffic and version control issues.

Global reach and consistent quality

We are where you are! Our network provides access to leaders who can identify and resolve issues. Local subject matter experts together with our team have built standardised approaches to delivering consistent quality time after time.

The FAAS team maintains personal relationships with key members in our Grant Thornton International network through ongoing project collaboration and networking.

Expertise

We are a specialist team that has experience in all aspects of executing projects with large multinational clients. We invest significant time transitioning and planning our assignments saving you valuable time. We hold the deep expertise required to deliver assignments to international clients and our FAAS team is experienced in 27 GAAPs and proficient in 14 languages.

Fee certainty and transparency

We operate a 'no surprises' and transparent approach to fees. We are committed to a fixed fee arrangement for an agreed scope and we do not charge for overruns. We want to ensure that you remain in control of your costs at all times and so any additional scope services are agreed in advance. We remain flexible to ensure we can adapt to suit your evolving needs.
